New Residents Welcomed to Bletchley Park

A New Residents Welcome Function was held in the spacious rear garden of the Bletchley Park sales and information centre on Sunday 20 March 2011. The rear garden overlooks the “much talked about” Bletchley Park central lake. Swans and ducks took centre stage as they moved elegantly passed the lake’s central fountain.

The function was well attended with over 50 new residents and their families turning out for a pleasant Sunday sumptuous morning tea. The Mayor for the City of Gosnells, Councillor Olwen Searle JP, formally welcomed the new residents to the City of Gosnells and the Managing Director of Wallis Property, Jason Wallis, pointed out the key attributes of this high profile master planned community.

Celebrity Chef Simon Watkins served a superb barbecue morning tea; and provided some hints on preparing a “barbie” at home.

New residents were personally presented with a gift to remind them of the significance of this special morning tea.

The Wallis Property team constantly focuses attention on community building activities and this new residents' welcome initiative is one of the most popular activities on the events calendar.
